Installation Options

Creating a False Fireplace

Whether you are building a new home, working through a major renovation or just want to revamp your living room, the Rinnai zero clearance option is the perfect solution to creating a new space.

If your home doesn't have an existing fireplace, creating a false fireplace is the next best thing. To ensure an easy installation into a timber frame or other combustible materials, the Rinnai SS850, 1250 and 950 are designed with an integrated zero clearance box.

The 650 and 750 require an additional zero clearance frame.

Weatherproof Box

For an alternative installation to a false fireplace, the Rinnai 1250, 950, 750 and 650 can be installed into a weatherproof box. A cavity is cut into the existing blank wall and the fireplace is installed onto a bracket that allows the back of the fire to sit outside housed in a tightly sealed box. This option allows the fire to be built into an existing wall without taking up any extra space in the room. The weatherproof box is sold separately.

Existing Masonry Fireplace

Another great option for many homes is installing a Gas Fireplace into an existing brick chimney. Turn an unused fireplace into a stunning feature or replace an existing Gas Heater with a Rinnai Gas Fireplace to create the ultimate solution for comfortable living. The Rinnai SS850, 650 and 750 are designed to suit existing masonry fireplaces.

*Star-rating depends on installation and flueing configuration.

Rinnai Gas Fireplaces appliances are fitted with either a 'heat guard mesh' or layered glass as the primary safety guards. Some installations, for example where young children are present, may require the purchase of an additional, third party safety guard. For more information please refer to owner and installation manual accompanying the heater. With our policy of continuous improvement, we reserve the right to change, or discontinue at any time, specifications or designs without notice.
