

New energy performance standards

Rinnai

The new Zoned Energy Rating Labels (ZERL) provide more information than previous labels including:

- How much cooling and heating power an Air Conditioner can provide.
- How efficient an Air Conditioner is depending on where you live.
- How much electricity the Air Conditioner will use depending on where you live.
- How much noise the indoor and outdoor units produce.

